Half-Day Conference

April 25, 2020

St. Thomas Aquinas College • 8:30 am – 12:15 pm

Resilience: The child may not remember, but the body remembers

Researchers recently discovered a dangerous biological syndrome caused by abuse and neglect during childhood. As the new documentary Resilience: The Biology of Stress & The Science of Hope reveals, toxic stress can trigger hormones that wreak havoc on the brains and bodies of children, putting them at a greater risk for future disease, homelessness, prison time, and early death.

While the broader impact of poverty worsens the risk, no segment of society is immune. Resilience, however, also chronicles the dawn of a movement determined to fight back. Trailblazers in pediatrics, education, and social welfare are using cutting-edge science and field-tested therapies to protect children from the insidious effects of toxic stress—and the dark legacy of a childhood no child chooses.

Film screening and discussion. Breakfast included.
